"Booker History"

In 1683 two Indians fought Adams Poe + Andrew Poe. The Booker ancestors came from near the border of Germany in 1765 as they were drove from Holland to Germany then came to United States of America because they were of the Anti-Baptist Religion and Wm. Penn who had come over to America and purchased land and built the first brick house invited the Bookers to come and they established Germantown in Pennsylvania U. S. A. The family went to Ohio then and later to Indiana.

wanted an English name since he was going to be an American and not Dutch German so he changed the name Booker to Booker. The original name in Germany was Boucher, Bocher, then Booker.

Dan Booker walked from Ohio to Randolph County Indiana before 1840 carrying an axe and then cleared the land and settled and started his

The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the existence of a solution of the system of equations (1) and (2) under the assumption that the functions $f_i(x)$ and $g_j(x)$ are continuous and satisfy the conditions (3) and (4). It is shown that if these conditions are satisfied, then the system (1) and (2) has a solution in the class of continuous functions. The second part of the paper is devoted to a study of the properties of the solution of the system
 (1) and (2) under the assumption that the functions $f_i(x)$ and $g_j(x)$ are continuous and satisfy the conditions (3) and (4).

In the third part of the paper, we study the properties of the solution of the system
 (1) and (2) under the assumption that the
 functions $f_i(x)$ and $g_j(x)$ are continuous and satisfy the conditions (3) and (4). It is shown that if these conditions are satisfied, then the solution of the system (1) and (2) is unique. The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a study of the
 properties of the solution of the system
 (1) and (2) under the assumption that the
 functions $f_i(x)$ and $g_j(x)$ are continuous
 and satisfy the conditions (3) and (4).

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the existence of solutions of the system of equations

$$\frac{dx}{dt} = f(x, y, z), \quad \frac{dy}{dt} = g(x, y, z), \quad \frac{dz}{dt} = h(x, y, z),$$

where f, g, h are continuous functions of x, y, z in a certain domain D of the three-dimensional space. It is assumed that the functions f, g, h satisfy the Lipschitz condition with respect to x, y, z in D . The existence of solutions is proved by the method of successive approximations.

2. In the second part of the paper the problem of the uniqueness of solutions is considered. It is shown that if the functions f, g, h satisfy the Lipschitz condition, then the solution is unique.

3. In the third part of the paper the problem of the extension of solutions is considered. It is shown that if the functions f, g, h are continuous and satisfy the Lipschitz condition, then the solution can be extended as far as the boundary of the domain D .

4. In the fourth part of the paper the problem of the stability of solutions is considered. It is shown that if the functions f, g, h satisfy the Lipschitz condition, then the solution is stable.

5. In the fifth part of the paper the problem of the periodicity of solutions is considered. It is shown that if the functions f, g, h are periodic with respect to x, y, z , then the solution is periodic.

6. In the sixth part of the paper the problem of the bifurcation of solutions is considered. It is shown that if the functions f, g, h satisfy certain conditions, then the solution bifurcates.

7. In the seventh part of the paper the problem of the asymptotic stability of solutions is considered. It is shown that if the functions f, g, h satisfy certain conditions, then the solution is asymptotically stable.

8. In the eighth part of the paper the problem of the chaotic motion of solutions is considered. It is shown that if the functions f, g, h satisfy certain conditions, then the solution exhibits chaotic motion.

9. In the ninth part of the paper the problem of the integrability of solutions is considered. It is shown that if the functions f, g, h satisfy certain conditions, then the solution is integrable.

George Riley Booker - Ridgely, Ind.
March 12 -

The above picture is of Mr. Geo. R. Booker a railroad veteran of thirty-five years standing. Beginning as a roundhouse man in 1869, he was lackey boy in 1872.
In 1874 he was brakeman on extra to Chicago carrying provisions to the great burning city. Thereafter he assisted in building and constructing nine different railroads. He also worked in taking up wrecks and many horrible sights he saw. These wrecks often looked like the battlefields of the "sixties". At one time he saved an engine from going backwards over a 32 ft. precipice.
The engine started from the turntable on a spur and he running over to the pilot to the sandboard and into the cab reversed the lever and saved a sixty-ton hog.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry must be supported by a valid receipt or invoice. The second part outlines the procedures for handling discrepancies between the books and the actual cash on hand. It states that any variance must be investigated immediately and reported to the management. The third part describes the process for reconciling the bank statements with the company's records. It notes that this should be done monthly to ensure the accuracy of the financial statements. The final part of the document provides a summary of the key points and reiterates the commitment to transparency and accountability in all financial matters.
